REPUBLICAN PARTY.—The campaign has been so far so good. The Republican party of California is now dictating the coming campaign with an air of success for his candidacy. Gov. Gage is confronted with opposition from the Democratic party. In view of the situation, the Redlands Citizen of last week makes the following statement of the case:

"To one who knows the people of large part of the State, who has mingled with the common people, the farmers, the small business men, the laborer, short, the men who do the voting, it stands taken by the Los Angeles Herald publisher is diametrically opposed to the expected result of the election. He believes that Gov. Gage, in a vast majority of his appointments, is subject to the domination of those who are called 'bosses.' There were no doubt dictatorial boss rulers of the Republican party in California than W. F. Herrington or C. D. Burns. These two great years they have almost dictated not only almost all appointments, but also the policy of the party. During every Senatorial campaign in the Legislature it is known to every one who reads the newspapers, the small merchants, in Gov. Gage threw his whole power in the scale in order to weight it down with C. D. Burns, the United States Senator."

"The Republican party of California at this time cannot afford to go into the details of its platform. New issues are springing up. Old issues are being left buried under new ones. It is impossible to keep abreast of the changes are being made. Living, burning issues have come to the top and the people are thinking, reading and studying. If the Republican party desires success this fall it must start out in the campaign with no handicap, no baggage, no dead issues, no unbandaged muscles, nor any other thing in the path to victory."

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Friday Morning Club.

The Everyday Topics Committee of the Friday Morning Club yesterday presented a pleasant programme in the shape of four papers on the very latest news items on the various topics. Mrs. George M. Norton, Mrs. E. J. Creighton, Mrs. Charles F. Edson and Mrs. Lillian Lipinski were the authors and readers. The first paper, "The Presidents of Accounts of Jaunts by Wagon," was read by Mrs. Norton. It was a humorous or muleback, including many adventures, humors and otherwise.

Child Study.

The West Vernon Child Study Circle held the last meeting of the year on Wednesday night, June 28, at the home of Mrs. G. Saunders. Mrs. W. C. Bowman gave an interesting talk on "The Psychology of Parent and Teacher." An article on "The Psychology of Playgrounds" was read and discussed. Excellent music was furnished by Miss Lillian Spurlin. Two boys of the West Vernon School Orchestra. Refreshments were served at the close of the programme. After a delightful afternoon, the circle adjourned to meet on the third Tuesday in September.

The Child Study Circle of the Ninth Street Y. M. C. A. met on Monday evening, June 27, on Wednesday, June 18, at 8 p.m. The rooms had been tastefully decorated with ferns and hanging plants. A musical program was presented by Misses Charlotte Pinkham, Marion Hooker, Hattie Longstreet and Elizabeth Williams. The plan was presented by Messrs. H. V. Williams gave several recitations. Prof. Emery made a few pleasant remarks, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. This circle has the distinction of being the largest and best of its kind in the city.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

County Republican Organization Meets Today to Make Arrangements for Coming Convention.

A large attendance expected at the meeting of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee, which is to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Native Sons' Hall, No. 228 North Spring street. The committee is composed of delegates from each election precinct in the county. With but few exceptions, all vacancies were filled at the meeting of the Executive Committee, held on June 10. The general committee will fix the time and place of the convention, and will make the apportionment of delegates. According to the tentative program, the convention will be held August 19 at Hazard's Pavilion, and the apportionment probably will be based on delegates from each precinct. At the Presidential election of 1900, making a total of 765 delegates in the convention. Various resolutions proposed by the committee, which have been filed by Chairman Bradner W. Lee since the meeting. Among them are: To advance Elmer George Thornburg, precinct 49A; Eugene E. Smith, 49C, and James Ewing, 50B.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS STILL LIVE.

Little Hope That Two of the Men Injured Thursday at the City Wire Works Will Long Survive.

The three victims of the accident Thursday morning at the City Wire Works remain in the hospital, and are still alive, but two of them are so near to death that their physicians hold out little hopes of their recovery. Henry Klipper the most seriously injured of the three, regained consciousness early today, but he is unable to move. His general condition is improving, but the place of the convention, and will make the apportionment of delegates. According to the tentative program, the convention will be held August 19 at Hazard's Pavilion, and the apportionment probably will be based on delegates from each precinct. At the Presidential election of 1900, making a total of 765 delegates in the convention. Various resolutions proposed by the committee, which have been filed by Chairman Bradner W. Lee since the meeting. Among them are: To advance Elmer George Thornburg, precinct 49A; Eugene E. Smith, 49C, and James Ewing, 50B.

Martin Schrenzer is at the City Hospital and his condition is extremely critical. The extent and effects of his injuries are about as bad as could be expected twenty-four hours, if he lives that long.

Henry Vogt, whose fall caused the accident, to the other two men, was much improved last night. He has recovered from the shock, but is not yet out of bed. Owing to the advanced age his recovery will be slow and he may never be able to work again.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

The orange market is getting into a small corner. Sixteen thousand cars have been shipped, including the lemon. There are not to exceed 1500 carloads left in the State. About 1000 cars are about the size of Valencia lemons and the oranges are mostly Valencia lemons.

The summer lemon crop is running light and there will be less than 7500 cars of this fruit, unless the fall crops in September and October turn out better than this that now being gathered is doing.

After this date last year over 3000 carloads of lemons were sent to the west coast out of Southern California.

There are over four months before the end of the season—or over twenty weeks more to harvest lemons. On average cars a day for the time. Divide these between the number of days in the month. Between a supply of only six or seven cars of each a day for the seventeen weeks.

GARNAUT'S PLANS.

If Tuberculosis Fail to Show Itself He Intends to Experiment Again in Effort to Catch It.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) PARIS, June 23.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Dr. Garmault, the physician who has inoculated himself with matter taken from a consumptive cow, in order to disprove Prof. Koch's theory that it is impossible for human beings to catch tuberculosis from cattle, informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that he has been misquoted. He does not propose that Dr. Theobald Smith, of Harvard University, shall treat him during the present experiment. If tuberculosis declares itself, should the experiment fail however, then Dr. Garmault shall place himself in communication with Prof. Smith and Prof. Baumgarten of Tubingen, who, he says, "if they do not follow Koch completely, yet express doubts, which impose on them grave obligations."

"I do not ask Dr. Smith or Prof. Baumgarten to imitate me," continues Dr. Garmault, "but if the experiment fails, I ask them to assure, in concert with me, a new, decisive experiment, to be practiced on myself."

Dr. Garmault also says he chooses Dr. Smith and Prof. Baumgarten because he is convinced of their scientific good faith, which he questions in Prof. Koch. The French physician is willing to go to Boston if necessary, for the experiment.

Levy then went to the postoffice, where Archie Roosevelt appeared on his pony. Levy stepped up to him, and asked to hold his horse.

When young Roosevelt entered the postoffice the negro jumped on the pony's back and made off. He was captured by citizens before he had gone far, and was lodged for jail.

LOOKS BLACK FOR WHITE.
Lot of Circumstances Against Him.
Fits the Descriptions of Slugger.
Mrs. Dripps, Beaten Woman, in a Serious Condition—Others Look.

Slowly, but seemingly surely, the detectives are forging a chain of evidence around John, alias "Bull" White, a Whittier Reform School graduate, each link in which points more strongly to his guilt as the assailant of Mrs. Kate A. Dripps, the aged widow who for no known cause was attacked on Downey avenue and so terribly beaten that she may never recover. The officers are not ready to formally charge White with the crime, because their evidence is purely circumstantial, but there is a possibility of securing direct and very positive evidence. Nothing is left undone that will tend to clear up the mystery of that assault, and of the several others in which defenseless women have been abused. White denies his guilt. He is locked in one of the steel tanks of the City Jail, and will remain there until the investigation is concluded. The officers say they believe he is guilty of more than one of the assaults. With reference to the attack upon Mrs. Dripps, some of the points against the prisoner are these: His description fits exactly that which Mrs. Dripps gave of her assailant, though it was meager, witnesses have been found who saw White in that part of the city about the hour of the crime, others saw a man answering his description, walking along the street toward the Downey avenue bridge, and close behind him was Mrs. Dripps; the clothing White is known to have worn on the night of the crime has been found to bear blotches of blood in many places.

Mrs. Dripps is in a state of nervous collapse which her physicians consider serious. Her eyes are swollen shut, her jaw broken and her face a mass of bruises, and there are bruises all over her body, where the brute kicked her after knocking her down. She might receive the best possible attention, her sons, yesterday had her removed to a private hospital. Last night information was received at police headquarters that her condition has shown no improvement, and that there are fears that she may not recover. Some time ago a friend of White was arrested and sent to the prison, on the charge of being the assailant of the woman. Another circumstance overlooked until yesterday is that when Mrs. Dripps reached her home she had lost her purse, containing a small amount in change, but it is not believed that robbery was the motive. Two of the victims of previous assaults called at the detectives' office yesterday and asked to see the prisoner. Mrs. Dahl Holcomb, who on April 28 was beaten almost into insensibility by an unknown man on Macy street, near Date, confronted White. She stated that she did not desire to accuse any innocent man of the crime, and while White's situation fits that of her assailant, she is not sure enough of the identification to swear to it. Mrs. W. H. Barnes of No. 842 Wall street was assaulted April 20, near San Pedro street, on Date. She was struck on the back of the head and knocked down. When she saw White at the jail, she said that he looks like the man, but she was not sure. Asked if she is not the man, she replied with emphasis that she was not, but that she was only in doubt, and before giving a positive answer she desired to think it over, and see the man who had come to her rescue. As soon as Mrs. Dripps is able to see any person, if ever, White will be taken before her, and until then it will not be known positively whether she will be able to identify him.

HISTORIC CORONATIONS.
William the Conqueror Crowned Three Times a Year—Coronations Under Great Difficulties.
[London Mail.] The records of coronations date back to a very remote period of English history. One of the most interesting of the earlier coronations was Alfred the Great's coronation as King. This took place at Rome in 854. Alfred was five years old at the time, the boy King being solemnly dedicated to Kingship by Pope Leo in person. In later life Alfred was crowned at Winchester.
Until 1066 the records of coronations in England do not give any incidents of particular interest. It is related that at the crowning of William the Conqueror in that year the assemblage of the assembly so loud that the Norman garrison believed the people to have revolted. They set fire to the houses near the Abbey, and while the English were putting out the flames the Norman soldiers looted the buildings. Meanwhile, the curious spectacle was witnessed of the great conqueror sitting, trembling, at the altar. William had a mania for coronations, and while he reigned, he was crowned three times every year—in Winchester Abbey at Christmas, in Winchester at Easter, and in Gloucester at Whitsuntide. William II was crowned at Westminster in 1157, by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and thenceforward the ceremony was nearly always carried out by the incumbent of that see. This King took the oath to maintain the Church, and to practice mercy and justice toward his people. William's successor, Henry I, was crowned three times, first rather hurriedly a few days after the death of his father, and then at Winchester with his wife in 1122, and thirdly at the time of his second marriage. King Stephen was crowned appropriately on St. Stephen's Day, December 26, 1135. During the ceremony a terrible storm occurred, and a terrible shed on the reputed courage of those fighting ancestors of ours by the record that the people died in public, and both the kiss of peace and the benediction were forgotten. Henry II was thrice crowned, first at Westminster, in 1154, again, alone, at Lincoln in the following year, and, thirdly, with his Queen in 1159. While Henry still continued to reign as "over King," his son, Prince Henry, was crowned by the Archbishop of York in 1170. At the coronation feast the father served the dishes to the son, with his own hands saying, "It is not a very great condescension for the son of an earl to wait upon the son of a King." This Prince was a second time crowned at Winchester with his wife in 1172. In 1189 Richard I was crowned at Westminster. Even in those intolerable days, England offered a refuge of the Jewish people, everywhere persecuted. But the belief prevailed that they could work magic, and Richard ordered that none should be allowed to attend at the coronation, and several Jews, however, tried to force their way in, with the result that they were assaulted and hurled to the city, where their houses and those of their countrymen were burned and looted. The whole night is said to have been spent in outrage and robbery of the Jews. In the sequel, however, they were taken under royal protection. When only a boy, Henry III was crowned at Gloucester in 1216. Four years later he was again crowned at Westminster. Queen Mary II was crowned at the same place with his Queen. On this occasion, there was great feasting, the citizens of London presented with 500 cups of gold and silver, in which they served out wine. For eight days tournaments were held in Tottenham. In 1722 occurred the coronation of Edward I, attended by the King of the Scots, and several hundred great horses, "catch and keep who could."

The coronation of Queen Catherine in 1421 was followed by a wondrous feast, at which every kind of fish in the sea seems to have been provided, for the list included eels, plaice, herring, grey, trout, cod, plaice, crab, bream, conger-eels, barbel, roach, salmon, halibut, turbot, sole, plaice, dory, perch, tench, turbot, whiting, sturgeon, prawns and roast porpoise. On the coronation of Edward IV, a grand procession passed through the decorated streets from the Tower to Westminster Abbey. Queen Mary II was crowned in 1553 in an open chariot, drawn by six horses, from the Tower to Westminster. Being seated with 1000 marks of gold by the City Chamberlain. The plague raged in London at the coronation of James I, which was consequently shorn of all display. No one of the public was allowed to attend, except the Lord Mayor, aldermen and twelve citizens, and on the following day the King and his court set out for Windsor. The coronation of James II, in 1685, was a splendid affair, but was attended by an unlucky omen. As the King returned from Westminster Abbey, the ill-fitting crown would have fallen from his head but for the intervention of someone accompanying him. It is related of Queen Anne, who was crowned in 1702, that she was crowned by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the other prelates, but offered only her cheek to the temporal peers.

George I was crowned with great pomp at Westminster, in 1714; but the coronation was marred by a serious riot which occurred at Bristol. There was a falling-out in splendor at the coronation of George II, in 1727. When George III was crowned (1761) another mishap occurred, the great diamond crown being broken. The coronation of George IV, was carried out with great pomp. It cost £250,000, and the royal robes cost £24,000. The public was excluded, and the ceremony was somewhat marred by the coronation of Queen Victoria in 1838. The whole cost of the coronation amounted to only £30,000. William IV, it is said, had desired to dispense with the ceremony of coronation; but it was carried out with strict economy on September 8, 1838. There was great popular enthusiasm, with illuminations, fireworks, and suspension of business. The King would neither allow procession nor feast. The whole cost of the coronation amounted to only £30,000.

HATS AND THE MAN.
A Protest by a Boston Victim Against Subjection to the Prevailing Panama Fad.
[Boston Journal.] "No form of the rough straw hat will be stylish this year," says the sartorial dictator. "The Panama is the thing." Now, a little thing like the price of a Panama that will last through at least one rainstorm—$5 to $10—is of no consequence of course. So many of our worthy fellow-citizens are looking hard for ways in which to dispose of their surplus income that the munificence of the whole American people seems to be taken for granted by these gentlemen whose portraits we see every day on the signboards. Personally we have a strong aversion to the Panama. This aversion has nothing to do with the fact that our last straw hat—a rough pattern, by the way—was in reasonable condition, or that we are saving up to go the mill, or that, to his hat. We have always felt friendly toward the few brave, sensible persons who yet cling to the Daniel Webster hat. "There," we say to ourselves as they hobble by, "is the strength of character—Independence." Surely a hat is a sign of character! The ancients declined to give themselves; they wore no hats. When the time of honor came they offered their heads to be cut off. They were not embarrassed or distorted by the derby, the stovepipe or the fedora. We imagine Caesar strolling along

OFFICIAL CALL BY A CHURCH BOARD.

IT HAS looked out that at the meeting of the quarterly conference of the First Methodist Church, held on Monday night last, official action was taken concerning the talk of change of pastors in that congregation. This action was to be kept secret from every body except those within the "charmed circle," but, as usual, it was told, and yesterday an authoritative statement was made to The Times of the status of the matter. For two years, owing to declining health, Rev. Dr. R. S. Cantine has been interesting himself in the selection of a successor to himself as senior pastor of the First Church, where he has accomplished so much, and in which he feels a deep interest. In March and April, 1901, he had extended correspondence with Dr. Robert McIntyre of Chicago, one of the most eminent preachers in Methodism, concerning his taking up with the preaching of the gospel in the city. At the same time the official board of the church, of which Dr. Cantine is president, had a special committee at work in the same direction. A year later, Dr. McIntyre appeared on the ground, having been ordered to a mild climate by his family physician, owing to the ill-health of his wife. On June 2 the official board held a meeting at which Dr. Cantine presided, and adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, that the Committee on Pastors, together with the preaching of this district, be and are hereby instructed to extend an invitation to Dr. Robert McIntyre to become the pastor of this church, at the beginning of the next conference year." The invitation was extended in accordance with the decision, and under date of June 9, Dr. McIntyre wrote his acceptance, stating that it had been practically decided at the last conference of the California Methodist churches, and it rests entirely with the bishop. That all unite in an effort to have the bishop assign Dr. McIntyre to the First Church. Dr. Cantine arose to his feet as the reading ceased, and in a delightful speech moved the adoption of the recommendation, and his motion was unanimously carried. The cheerful accord of pastor and people is shown in every step leading up to the request to have Dr. McIntyre appointed to the First Church, and when Dr. Cantine retires from the active ministry, a few months hence, it will be in accord with his own desire. "I am not a quitter, I'm a stay-er," said Dr. Cantine yesterday, "and I expect to continue to preach as long as I live, though I may not be on salary. Dr. McIntyre is a great preacher, and was one of the greatest churches in all Methodism, in Chicago, and I long ago, as these letters show, sought him as a desirable successor to the First Church of Los Angeles." Although the local church boards brand this company, which Dr. McIntyre will be assigned to the pastorate of the church cannot be made until the next conference of the California Methodist churches, and it rests entirely with the bishop.

SING A SONG OF JUNE-TIME.
Sing a song of June-time,
Sweetest days of bloom-time!
Humming bees in all the trees,
Scented roses on the breeze,
Singing birds—oh, all of these,
Make the summer's noon-time!
Sing a song of June-time!
'Tis the bird's time-time!
'Tis the time when in the fields
Strawberries their sweetness yield;
When the fern leaves, all unrolled,
Make green shade in sunshine's gold—
Then sing a song of June-time!

THE POWER OF THE PRESS.
One day when longing for a chance
Old Irish miner Pat Concluded he would go to town and have a little "bat."
He'd toiled through all the winter slaves down where the treasure lies
And thought a week or two in town
would be about his size.
Into a mountain camp he went, put up at the hotel,
And felt as full of tone pride as any city swain.
For, though old Pat had three score years chalked up against his name, he was as spry as a cat,
He felt, in slangy parlance, he could get there just the same.
Old Pat had been a reader of the Jintown Silver Gazette
For many years, and always pal-sabscription in advance.
And often had he told himself he'd someday go and make a call upon ye editor and have a friendly shake.
He'd never struck a printerly man, but he had seen the editor in the sacred sanctum door
to the brain-man said:
"O'm Pat Maghee, and long's the time yer paper O' have read."

Ye editor ope'd wide his arms and gave old Pat a hug
And from that time on he took the editorial jug.
For Pat's subscription would expire
in just a week or two,
And well he recked two silver plunks
would soon be flashed in view.
"O'! I want to see you, make the Glance," old Pat went on to say.
And happened it that this was on the publication day,
And soon an old decrepit mule upon a treadmill worked
To run the press, a duty fit for years had never shirked.
"So that's the editor," said Pat. "Faix
but O'! I thought 'twas you That made the paper O' have read so often 't'roo and 't'roo,
And' who'd ever think for wance
a stupid hater like that Could print such stuff, but faith it is a wiser old head he's got!
Look at him how aisyly he prints
the papers out!
A knowin' animal he is widout the least of doubt!
Ye've often printed stuff about the
power av the press,
But pon me sowl O'! niver I ought to see such a thing as this.

AGED WOMEN ARE CAUGHT.

Two Fake Schemes Find Local Victims.

The Diamond Racket is Successful Yet.

Merchants Gathered in by Collection Agency Which Makes Glittering Promises.

Promoters of questionable enterprises evidently think this an easy and fertile field. Banished from eastern cities, almost all of these worthless take a chance at Los Angeles. Usually their visit is short, however, as the commercial bodies investigate their propositions and refuse them the indorsement necessary to do business successfully. At least two old schemes have been started anew here, with slight alterations. The Diamond Racket, a scheme of the "Eastern" name, has two smooth emulators here, who are working the aged confidence game for all it is worth, and with some success. Old women, with small capital, impaired eyesight, and plenty of confidence in human nature are the principal prey of this enterprise. To anybody but the simplest of mortals, the claims of this company would be enough. The promoters promise that on an investment of $50 they will return double, or $100, in two years, or "present the investor with a jewel worth $100. They do not guarantee to lift any mortgages, or get father out of jail. Neither do they explain how they are able to use $500 diamonds interchangeably with $100 in cash. Probably they own stock in some of the South African fields, or their gems are exempt from duty. The system by which they are enabled to give such large returns on investments the promoters say is very similar to that used by the large insurance companies. That generally generally a few and sundries the most inquisitive of old women. By scientific research and compilation of statistics on how to make money without work, these economic students claim to have discovered an unfailing system, which they charitably offer to use for the benefit of the investing public. It is cogly admitted that the promoters get a small take-off when some investor dies, incognito or loses, his papers. One woman, without a guardian, is said to have put several hundred dollars into the scheme.

The other graft which has just been begun here is of the collection-agency brand. This company, which has central offices in Chicago, goes after persons who have very bad debts among their acquaintances. Their agents "ask" the debtors to pay, and the most able by a system exclusively their own, to collect any debt under the sun. It makes no difference to them whether the debt is outlawed, the debtor a bankrupt, or even a corpse, the keen agents of this company will secure the money in full. To a man with his pigeonholes full of I.O.U.'s, cards, the promotion looks too good to be true, but he generally loses his ear. Then it is quietly sprung on him that a membership fee of $100 is necessary to join this band of hope, and participate in its wonderful benefits. But every member is given a strong string to his $100, in the form of an agreement, that in the impossible contingency of the company failing to collect all his bad bills at the end of three years, the $100 will be returned to him with an additional $100 for the use of it. Although it almost passes belief, the promoters of this company have secured quite a number of new members among the smaller business men of this city.

Once my sister Floy was sent on an errand for some things for my mother. There was a traveling man there who was selling carpet spankers, and he asked her: "Has your mother got one of these spankers?" "No, sir," she replied. "What does she use?" he asked. "Her hand," was the prompt reply, "Little Chronicle."

It is a remarkable commentary upon the difference in results between English and American management that within a year after the absorption of the greatest English match-making firm, the American company should be compelled to erect a new factory equal to that of the absorbed concerns.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.]

First Car Over New Alhambra Line

"Yes, sir," said Epes Randolph, general manager of the Pacific Electric Company, "the first car for Alhambra will leave the Fourth Street Station tomorrow (Saturday) morning, at 6 o'clock. We hope to reach the San Gabriel Mission Church next Wednesday. The line to Long Beach will be in operation all right Fourth of July. The fare to Long Beach will be 30 cents, round-trip tickets, 50 cents; to Alhambra, 20 cents, round trip, 30 cents. We are grading on the line to Monrovia along the old Monterey road, and are now near the residence of J. A. Graves, Esq. The rails will be laid to that point in forty days, and unless something occurs to interfere with our progress we will be at Monrovia in about ninety days."

THE PUBLIC SERVICE IN THE COURTS AND OFFICES.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Representatives of civic bodies appeared before the Board of Public Works to ask the adoption of public garbage specifications and the enforcement of the proposed contract. Close bids for asphalt paving on the roadways of bridges were reviewed by the board yesterday. The Daily Journal yesterday presented its first bill under the new printing contract, alleging a circulation of 3000 copies. F. H. Merrill of Pomona was a tardy juror in Judge Trask's court yesterday and his delinquency may cause him trouble this morning. The criminal department of the Superior Court has subpoenaed sixty men to serve as a new term-trial jury. J. A. Smith and wife got put off a train out on the desert last September, and are asking the court for damages each in the sum of $2000. The body of Charles Hill was exhumed yesterday, but no distinguishing marks were found. An Italian fruit vender was fined $5 in the Police Court yesterday for selling oranges infected by scale. Charles Filkins, the ex-convict, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday.

AT THE CITY HALL. IDEAS EXPRESSED ON GARBAGE COLLECTION.

CITIZENS DEMAND GOOD CONTRACT AND ITS ENFORCEMENT.

Representatives of Various Civic Bodies Present Their Requests to the Board of Public Works—Philadelphia Concern Wants a Bid on Contract.

A long executive conference followed the hearing before the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon regarding garbage specifications. The City Fathers communed with themselves over past mistakes and the best means of escaping the political shoals that now confront them.

Nobody seems to know exactly why, but the firm of Franklin & Alexander appears to have considerable influence in the Council. Certain of the City Fathers are very solicitous that their wishes shall be given great weight. Nevertheless, these Councilmen realize that the eyes of the citizens are upon them and that whatever they do with relation to the garbage contract will affect every one of their constituents.

Women cannot vote, but the City Fathers have political sagacity enough to know that they can make votes. It is not often that the feminine constituency appears in the Council chamber to ask a favor; but when they do a refusal is taken much to heart. Great attention was paid by the Councilmen yesterday to the remarks of Mrs. Harrell Wadleigh, who, with Mrs. J. Washburn and Mrs. S. R. Longstreet, represented the Civic League. On behalf of the housewives of the city Mrs. Wadleigh urged the board to prepare stringent specifications and see that they are enforced.

"I need not tell you," said she, "that every housewife in the city takes an active interest in the garbage contract. We trust that you will prepare specifications covering the removal of all household waste and clearly define the term garbage. We ask the adoption of every binding regulation and the enforcement of the contract."

Attorney Frank Finlayson addressed the board on the merits of the proposal made by the Sanitary Collection and Reduction Company, of which Ramon & Marsh are the local representatives. After reading to the Councilmen—all but Leander were present—the communication filed with the Council last Monday, the attorney elaborated on the benefits that would accrue to the city from the purchase of a crematory, and that the Sanitary Collection and Reduction Company would insert in the contract a provision that the city might buy the plant at the expiration of five or ten years.

Many reasons were advanced for the superiority of the scavenger system which is in vogue in San Francisco and several eastern cities. It was pointed out that many of the poorer classes would not pay their bills monthly, as proposed, the attorney thought that the city might buy the plant at the expiration of five or ten years.

He argued that the tax would be more equitably placed if it fell upon actual residents in proportion to the number of rooms, instead of upon the property owners, some of whom might not be benefited.

A reduction works could not be built in a night. The city would be compelled to expend of $75,000, he said no objection should be made to a long-term contract. The point was made that the Council could only enforce the ordinance from time to time that would properly safeguard the contract.

It was his idea that the Council should receive bids either on the basis of a percentage of the gross revenues or in a lump sum for the franchise. For the ordinary house of six rooms he thought the charge under the scavenger system would be about 25 cents per month.

The present contractors get $1000 a month in a lump sum for removing kitchen refuse, ashes and tin cans from the whole city. "For five years the city has been at the mercy of the garbage contractor," declared Secretary F. J. Zeehandelaar of the Sanitary Collection and Reduction Company's Association. "Our association asks that you prepare specifications covering the removal of all household waste and that whatever contract you make shall be enforced."

There has been a fire in Franklin & Alexander's crematory for some months. The furnace is the nesting place of rats and mice. The contract should have been revised long ago, if the firm could not afford to do the work. Many rats are going up in this city. The tenants are at a loss to dispose of miscellaneous refuse. The number of vacant lots is diminishing, and they have been used as enough as a dumping ground. We ask that the collection of garbage be placed in the hands of some particular department, so that we will know to whom to complain. If the present system of take what you wish and leave what you please is to continue, the citizens should at least have the chance to protest about it to some one. At present no blame is responsible for the present state of affairs.

Contractor J. B. Franklin took exception to the remarks made by Zeehandelaar, and declared that the secretary was badly informed as to such breaches of the contract have ever occurred. He declared that the trouble has been, not with the contractors, but with the specifications. And so it is up to the Council to fix the specifications. The Municipal League, which is composed of several hundred business men, made practically the same points as Secretary Zeehandelaar. He said the league does not want a few withered flowers nor the ordinary household waste to be collected by the garbage man. It should be made somebody's business to see that the contract is enforced, and to whom citizens could complain. The removal of garbage he thought to be a community affair, the expense of which should be borne by the whole city.

After further discussion, the board took the matter under advisement. It is thought that the fine system in vogue in so many eastern cities will be included in the specifications for the contract in let as formerly. The plan of fixing the contractors for every infraction of the specification is said to have proved an excellent incentive for the proper performance of the contract.

CHARTER REVISION. COMMITTEE MAKES PROGRESS.

The Charter Revision Committee entered upon a season of hard work last night, and left several sections of the report of the Committee on Elections and Appointments behind, all carefully considered and adopted. The end is far off, but with such work as was done last night the members are confident that the complete report will be ready for publication by October 1, which is the date fixed.

The first section taken up was that relating to the appointment of the Fire Commissioners. By a close vote the motion was carried that the four members of this commission shall be appointed by the Mayor on his induction into office, for a period of two years, and that the same political party shall belong to the same political party. The same provision was made with reference to the appointment of the four members of the Park Commission.

A slight variation was made when the Board of Health came up for consideration, and the committee's report was adopted, which provided that one member shall be appointed for one year, one for two years, one for three years, and one for four years, and that thereafter each successor shall be appointed for four years. The committee's report was also adopted providing that the three members of the Board of Public Works shall be appointed by the Mayor, one for one year, one for two years and one for three years, and that thereafter each member shall be appointed for three years.

The committee's report recommended that there shall be five members of the board of directors of the public library, and that they shall be appointed by the Mayor, two to serve for one year, one for two years, one for three years and one for four years, and that thereafter each successor shall be appointed for four years. The committee's report was also adopted providing that the three members of the Board of Public Works shall be appointed by the Mayor, one for one year, one for two years and one for three years, and that thereafter each member shall be appointed for three years.

There was considerable discussion of the section relating to the appointment of the members of the Board of Water Commissioners, which was reported in the same form as the one providing for the appointment of the water directors. Committee member Scott holding that there should be only three members of this board, to consist of the superintendent and the auditor of the waterworks. The question also arose whether the water directors should be paid a salary, but this will be decided later by the Finance Committee. The section as reported by the committee was finally adopted.

The appointive power of the various boards and commissions was determined as follows: The Police Commission shall appoint the Chief of Police; the Board of Education shall appoint the City Superintendent of Schools; the Fire Commission the chief engineer of the fire department and the City Engineer; the Board of Public Works the City Engineer and the secretary of the board, and each police commissioner shall be appointed by the Mayor for a period of four years, subject to the confirmation of the Council, and he must be a licensed architect, civil engineer, or a plumber, and shall also be appointed by the Mayor.

The last section disposed of, and one that was debated warmly, related to the removal of appointees. The committee's report provided that all removals shall be by a public hearing shall be given before the City Council, which body, by a two-thirds vote, may remove any appointee of the Mayor's appointees where confirmation of the Council is necessary. Where removal is of a criminal nature or of malfeasance in office has been brought against any official he shall be suspended until his case has been settled. This section was adopted as read.

PAYING PROPOSALS. ITEMS OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Very close figuring was done by the three rival asphalt companies who presented proposals for the paving of the roadways of five bridges to the Council last Monday. The bid offered by the City Engineer, Austin & Smith and the Alcatraz Asphalt Paving Company was tied for the lowest bid on the Buena Vista street bridge with an offer of $26,520. The bid by the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company was $26,520. The latter company had the lowest bid on the First-street bridge at $26,120, the highest bid being within $80 of that made by Austin & Smith and the Alcatraz Asphalt Paving Company. The lowest bid on the Los Felis road bridge at $17,100, the other two companies being tied at a figure only 221 higher. Austin & Smith were also the low bidder on the Buena Vista street bridge at $22,150, while Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company were below the others on the Ninth-street bridge bid at $22,150, marking the difference between the high and low bid.

leta, and Green will be compelled to cancel the plan of his proposed subdivision. The petition to improve Alvarado street from the intersection of Eleventh street to the intersection of Broadway was acted on favorably by the board.

BILLS FOR PRINTING.

Yesterday morning the first printing bill under the new advertising contract with the Daily Journal were submitted to the Finance Committee. For advertising from May 15 to May 25 the charge as presented is $200.00. Affidavits of Manager Warren Wilson and William Wolfers are presented to show that the circulation of the Daily Journal was 3000 copies daily. The Journal is paid 5 cents per 1000 of circulation for each inch of official city advertising. The Finance Committee will turn the demands over to the special committee consisting of Blanchard, Bowen and Walker, appointed to ascertain the true circulation of the Journal. Under the 24-cent rate that the circulation of the Daily Journal was in force the city's advertising from April 24 to May 15 cost $44.40.

It is now time for municipal deputies to get in line for a rise in salary, as the Finance Committee gave out yesterday that it is their intention to take up all petitions at the first of the fiscal year. Men now carried on requisition will be put on the salary ordinance, it is stated.

Registering Voters.

Deputy County Clerk J. C. M. Spenser has been busy with the City Hall men who expect to vote at the primaries in August must register if they do not do so since January 1. The registering station in the corridor of the hall will be maintained from now until registration closes for the primaries.

Blanchard Goes North.

Councilman Blanchard, accompanied by his wife, leaves for Portland, Or., today to attend the gun club shoot in that city.

AT THE COURTHOUSE. CHARLES HILL'S BODY EXHUMED YESTERDAY.

FALSE TERTH THE ONLY DISTINGUISHING MARK.

Doctors Found No Spots on the Rich Man's Remains and the Entire Body Was Normal—Hopes of Many "Heirs" Blasted.

Lifted from the grave was the body of Charles Hill yesterday, in the hope of aiding the authorities in the discovery of the rightful heirs to the considerable estate of $142,000 that is causing the innumerable hills of the earth so many spasms of anticipation and speculation. The body was exhumed at the order of the Public Administrator, and the remains were carefully examined by Dr. Beckett, Murphy and Bell, who do not believe the statement that the teeth of the decedent were artificial.

Although interment occurred about six weeks ago, the body was found in a remarkable state of preservation.

There were no spots on Hill. The entire body was found to be in a normal condition. During the examination special attention was paid to the hands and feet. Numerous letters have been received from would-be heirs, telling of scars, broken noses and crushed thumbs, and the authorities wished to satisfy themselves as to the actual condition of the body. No mangled thumb was found, nor were there any scars or broken bones. The body was found to be in a normal condition. During the examination special attention was paid to the hands and feet. Correctly Tailored Ready-to-Wear Clothing.

The making of clothing that will fit, has been reduced to a science by the employment of skilled labor. The majority of men can put on a ready made suit to fit as correctly as if made to measure. The exclusive tailors who make individual suits are not better posted in styles nor do better work than the tailors employed by large manufacturing concerns where hundreds of suits of each size are made for the retail trade. Every suit in our stock is Union Made and bears the Union Label. Though our clothing is made under the best sanitary conditions, in latest styles, of best materials and correctly tailored, our prices are at least 25 per cent lower than you would pay your tailor for no better garments.

Excellence in Boys' Clothing.

The superiority of the boys' clothing carried at Hamburger's has been too often demonstrated to parents to need any further commendation at our hands.
